GERMANY REOPENS ATTACKS

Germans Plan Seizure of Esthonian and Livonia in First Steps Against Bolsheviks.

(Associated Press Cable)
STOCKHOLM, FEBRUARY 18.—THE GERMANS RESUMED WAR MEASURES AGAINST RUSSIA TODAY, THE SOCIAL DEMOKRATEN STATES.

THEIR FIRST OBJECTIVE IS THE SEIZURE OF ESTHONIAN AND LIVONIA, IT DECLARES.

"Within a week we will occupy Reval," General Hoffman, German Military representative at the Brest-Litovsk peace conference is reported to have told the Russians in January, when they asked what would happen if they did not accept German terms. The Stockholm announcement indicates that Germany is moving to carry out this threat. Reval is the capital of the province of Esthonia. It is situated on the Gulf of Finland and has been one of the principal Russian naval bases for Baltic operations.

DENTIST OF KAISER BILL COMES HOME

Piqua Doctor Who Has Attended Emperor William Reaches U. S. Says Food Shortage Not So Bad as Reported.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
An Atlantic Port, February 18.—Dr. Arthur M. Davis, of Piqua, Ohio, who was dentist for Emperor William of Germany, returned to America today on a neutral steamship.

He left Germany January 22, having been allowed to cross the border on a military passport personally signed by the Emperor.

He declared the food situation in Germany was not as bad as had been reported.

A large number, they said, had reported for work today.

THE AMERICAN FRONT IN FRANCE

This map shows where General Pershing's army is holding trenches in Lorraine. It was announced recently at Washington that the American forces are holding eight miles of front in Lorraine. The line extends from near Flirey westward toward Apremont. In the center of the stretch are Xivray and Seichepray. The American section extends eastward from the St. Mihiel salient to Pont-a-Mousson.

The casualties in Sunday night's raid were 16 killed and 37 injured. Six or seven planes took part Sunday night. The first flew over London dropping bombs in various districts. The others were turned back.

SEN. WATSON THROWS FIT

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, February 18.—Provision of the Overman bill giving President Wilson wide power to reorganize the war branches of the government were denounced as "unconstitutional" and "autocratic" by Senator

Watson today in a speech in support of the Senate draft of the administration's railroad bill.

"The Overman bill," declared Senator Watson, "confers upon the President unheard of powers, many of which, to my mind, are entirely unjustifiable, but the most reprehensible feature, in my judgment, is the one that provides that this autocratic authority shall continue for one year after the termination of the war."

EARTHQUAKE CONTINUES

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Amoy, China, February 18.—Earthquake shocks continued here last night and today. Many persons have been injured and it is estimated that more than 100 houses have collapsed.

AFTER 200 YEARS OF INACTIVITY COSTA RICAN VOLCANO IS VOILENT

San Jose, Costa Rica, February 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The Irazu volcano, the largest and highest in Costa Rica, awakened and began a new period of violent activity after nearly two centuries of quietness.

The previous remarkable eruption of this volcano took place in 1723 when Costa Rica was the poorest of the colonies under the crown of Spain. During that year the Irazu was in activity throughout the whole year, emitting huge quantities of ashes, cinders, smoke and vapor and gases, and the manifestation was followed by earthquakes. Then came a period of long rest. It fell into a deep slumber for nearly two hundred years.

Now it has awakened again and is pouring out, without interruption, torrents of vapor, sublimates and ashes, cinders and volcanic debris which, floating in the air and carried by the air currents, have reached places 25 miles distant from the crater.

At the foot of this volcano lies the historical city of Cartago, three times destroyed by the colossal and as often rebuilt by her inhabitants. During the present crisis Cartago has suffered no harm as her inhabitants, wiser through experience have rebuilt the city earthquake proof; and the emissions of the volcano have not reached Cartago, owing to the heavy winds prevailing and which have blown them toward the valley of San Jose. Thousands of persons have visited the summit of the mountain range to see the two oceans, and the gigantic column of smoke and gasses aiming to the sky.

The Irazu volcano stands 11,000 feet above the sea level and about two hundred miles northwest of the Panama Canal. Back in the prehistoric ages, this volcano made formidable eruptions vomiting torrents of lava, miles in length, of which there are traces to be seen yet. Perhaps nothing similar will now happen; but the Costa Rican people always bear in mind the prediction of Humboldt who foretold that the Central American and Panama Isthmuses were doomed to be swallowed by the waters of both oceans, making a broader canal than the one that American genius built across the Isthmus of Panama.

AMERICAN FORCES ARE MORE ACTIVE

Uncle Sam's Fighters Rapidly Taking More Comprehensive Part in Gigantic Struggle.

American Artillery Units on Verdun Front. Seventeen German Planes Downed by British.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
As the time for more active military operations on the western front approaches the American Expeditionary force is widening its sphere of activity along the front lines.

Not only do American soldiers hold a sector on the front east of St. Mihiel but United States artillery is helping the French in Champagne and Infantrymen in company with the French are holding the front line in one of the most famous battle fronts in the world.

It is described as "being a place where ruined villages and devastated country tell of hard fought battles."

The Americans are well equipped to deal with the enemy and their officers with difficulty restrain them from attacking at every opportunity. On the American sector the Germans have tried various ruses in an endeavor to outwit the newcomer, but in vain. Raids have had no effect. The enemy has tapped and destroyed telephone lines; he has sent up false signals and charged his wire entanglements with electricity but has been outmaneuvered each time.

Except for a few small raids only the artillery has been active at various points on the British, French and American fronts. British airmen have been busy dropping bombs and downing enemy machines. Seventeen German airplanes were brought down by the British Saturday and seven were disabled. The British losses were five.

Communication with Petrograd has been restored and delayed reports tell of serious rioting there, and of indications that the Bolshevik power is waning.

An ultimatum has been sent to Rumania which asks the Rumanians to evacuate Bessarabia and to permit Russian troops to pass through Rumanian territory and Bessarabia.

ODESSA SCENE OF BIG BATTLE

(Associated Press Cable)
Petrograd, February 17.—In a battle at Odessa on Monday between the Bolsheviks and the Moderates, hundreds were killed. The city was bombarded by warships.

CAMPAIGN TO INSURE MORE WOOD BURNING

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., February 18.—First steps for a state campaign for use of wood as fuel has been taken by Federal State Fuel Administrator H. H. Johnson in the appointment of a fuel wood committee which will work under the direction of the state administration.

Letters have been sent to county fuel committees urging them to encourage the cutting of wood for fuel. Further developments of the campaign will be undertaken as the administration can work out its plan.

Washington, February 18.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—Supplemental appropriations estimates submitted to Congress today include a new naval emergency fund of $100,000,000 to expedite ship construction and purchase and construct destroyers, submarines, etc.

BE LIBERAL TO RAILWAYS SAYS SENATOR

Pomerene Insists One Million Persons Own Railroad Stock and Interests Should be Guarded.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, February 18.—Liberal treatment for the railroads while under government control was urged by Senator Pomerene, Democratic member of the Inter-State Commerce Committee when the Senate resumed consideration of the railroad bill.

Congress, he declared, should remember that more than 1,000,000 people have money invested in railroad securities. "I realize that railroads have over-charged communities, have evaded taxes and that their managers manipulated stocks, but Congress ought not to approach this subject now as if it were going to penalize the railroads for things committed years ago. The railroads are owned by the people of the country. When Senators pare compensation to the bone they are striking at the savings of a million people," said the Senator.

PRESIDENT TO NAME HEADS

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, February 18.—Amendment of the war finance corporation bill so as to give President Wilson, instead of Secretary McAdoo, power to appoint the directors of the corporation, was decided upon today by the Senate Finance Committee.

SETTLEMENT HITS A SNAG

By Associated Press Dispatch.
New York, February 18.—A hitch in the settlement of the Eastern shipyards strike situation developed here today when John Rice, general organizer of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, announced a Brooklyn yard had refused to re-employ 12 carpenters who struck this morning without knowing an understanding was under way between the government and the brotherhood. Unless these men were allowed to return, Mr. Rice said, the entire situation would be reopened.

"PREMIER ACE" AND FAMOUS LION CUB

MAJOR LUFBERY AND LION CUB

Major Raoul Lufbery, "premier ace" of the Lafayette Escadrille, and now in the American Flying Corps, is shown here playing with the famous lion cubs, Whiskey and Soda, mascots of the Escadrille. Major Lufbery is the star flier of the Allied aviators, having brought down eighteen German planes. Whiskey and Soda have had a most adventurous career at the front. While visiting in one of the first line trenches a raid was made by the Germans. The roars and bellows of the cubs, who were badly frightened, could be heard above the din of battle. They ran hither and thither in the trench, upsetting pots and causing much confusion. For the trouble they caused in the raid Whiskey and Soda were sentenced to be confined in the Paris Zoo. It was not long, however, before the howls of protest from the boys succeeded in bringing back their pets. But now the cubs are doomed for another trip to Paris. Both are growing so fast, both in size and strength of lungs, that their roars can be heard in the Boche trenches, drawing the fire of the enemy artillery.

KIEV TAKEN BY TROOPS OF TROTSKY

Streets Filled with Dead and Wounded After Bitter Struggle Between Bolsheviks and Ukraine.

Poles Defeat Bolsheviks at Bobruisk, and Are Advancing on Smolensk.

(By Associated Press Cable)
Petrograd, February 17.—Kiev, one of the principal cities of the Ukraine, was captured by the Bolsheviks on Friday after sanguinary fighting.

The streets were filled with dead and wounded. While the fighting was at its height on Thursday the city was bombarded by Bolshevik aviators.

Polish troops have defeated the Bolshevik troops at Bobruisk, 85 miles southeast of Minsk. Other Poles are advancing toward Smolensk. Rumanians control the Akkerman district of Bessarabia and are threatening Odessa.

which the Administration was informed were to become effective today.

Prices of last week are to be maintained until facts can be submitted to show an advance is justified.

Instructions to the bakers will apply to all others in the state.

WHEATLESS WEEKS NEAR

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 18.—Wheatless weeks instead of wheatless days are imminent unless production is increased, the Senate Agricultural committee was today told by L. H. Hyde, representing the Oklahoma State Council of Defense, who said that price fixing by the Food Administration should be extended to wheat substitutes.

SHIPWORKERS STRIKE ENDED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Warning

TO ALL DOG OWNERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC IN REGARD TO THE NEW DOG LICENSE LAW.

Be sure and see that the regulation tag is worn all the time. We don't want to cause any trouble to the ones that have complied with the law, but it would be your fault if your dog was picked up because it was not wearing a tag. A great many are carrying tags in their pockets. Their intentions are good but it is a violation of the law. It would be up to them to pay all costs. You have paid for your license, believing that other owners should be made to pay. It is up to you to help by complying with the law yourself. Any Justice of the Peace in the County has the proper complaint blanks. If you know of any unlicensed dog, just sign a blank and A. C. Nelson, Deputy, will at once give the complaint the proper attention.

I have tried to make a plain and fair explanation of your duties. We will try to work no injustice on anyone. It is my duty to see that all are treated alike, and that all dogs either be licensed or humanely destroyed. You can be fined not more than $25.00 for keeping or harbouring any dog more than three months old unlicensed, or not more than $100 for allowing a dog to wear a fictitious, altered or invalid tag; that means, it isn't safe to steal a tag and be caught using it. Better leave it alone, and do what the owner did to get it. The nearer we all work in harmony the easier it will be for all. An officer always needs the co-operation of the people in order to best serve them. This is a new law and has to be worked out. I will try to enforce it in the best and most economical way.

Respectfully,
HENRY W. JONES, Sheriff.

ACTIVITIES

The local chapter American Red Cross sent out a wonderful one day's shipment last Friday.

Four large boxes were packed and then there was an over-flow almost enough for another box.

The actual outlay in yarns and yardage materials, not counting a penny for work amounted to $1300.00.

Three boxes of knitted garments held 205 sweaters, 190 pairs of socks, 4 scarfs, 33 pair of wristlets, 2 helmets. The other box included 65 sheets, 26 pillow cases 14 ice bag covers 33 wash cloths, 50 handkerchiefs; 1 pair of pajamas, 37 draw sheets, 90 comfort pillows 2 nightgowns.

It was certainly a remarkable shipment for one day and attested to the work accomplished by Red Cross workers and the excellent management under which the work shop has been and is operated. Both knitted and muslin garments showed a high grade of work.

New Chairman in Charge

Mrs. Eva J. Penn, the incoming chairman of the Red Cross work shop succeeding Miss Marie Lanum, assumed the active management Monday morning.

KICKED BY HORSE

MANY SNOWDRIFTS
ALONG ROADWAYS

The recent thawing weather failed to take away all traces of the big snow, and along some of the highways, particularly those extending north and south, snow drifts three to four feet in thickness may yet be found in some places, although they are not plentiful, however.

Where these drifts remain at the roadside, the snow originally was five to eight feet in depth and extended almost entirely across the highways.

Mischief-making Falsehoods

The same mischief makers who have been so active, circulating fake stories about the Red Cross, influencing some even to the extent that they refuse to aid or give to it, are again busy.

The story comes from a near by city of a woman who very indignantly stated that since the food conservation proclamation, inspectors had been making a house-to-house inspection of cellars and pantries and that her own cellar had been among those inspected.

A chorus, "well, they'll never get into my cellar," went up from all but one of a group of women listening to this tale.
 The one who didn't believe it started an investigation. Upon visiting the food commissioner she not only found that no inspector had been sent out, but that there was even no prospect of such an inspection.

To the over powering majority of loyal Americans the spirit of disloyalty and malice which manifests itself in these untruthful stories, intended to make people resentful and suspicious is most distressing.

Ever since it became necessary to start food conservation there have been people who, instead of cheerfully aiding in what ever was found necessary to help win the war, became the active promoters of suspicion and ill will towards the movement.

Last Fall they faked stories as to how the garden truck was to be taken away from those who had labored to raise it.
 Then they started all kinds of Red Cross stories and even tried to convince investors that they would lose the money put in Liberty Bonds. Now they trump up a new story to poison housewives against food conservation, a most necessary factor in the war.

However by this time the public generally is pretty well on to this form of pro-Germanism and it is beginning to re-act against the perpetrators.

Father and Son Week

Father and Son week was most appropriately ushered in with Fathers' day at Camp Sherman Sunday, when hundreds of fathers, and incidentally quite a few mothers, visited their sons many coming from long distances.

The setting aside of a certain week each year as "father and son" week is done with the purpose of drawing fathers and sons into closer relations and cementing the bond between them.

This would seem on the face of it rather futile in the majority of cases where the warmest relations already exist between the two. But even when this is the case the mutual interests of the week are all to the good and nothing but benefit can grow out of this effort to tighten the bonds between father and son.

Often in homes where these two are specially bound together by affection the natural tendency of youth to seek youth combined with the rush and stress of business and the strenuous demands of today, interfere with the intimate association which each would enjoy. While there are some fathers careless and indifferent and some sons selfish and unappreciative, there are many more who just drift apart. Nor is the fault always with either one.

Sometimes the father forgets the days when he was young and fails to meet the exuberance of the son in the "chummy" spirit which brings so much of real joy into their lives, and sometimes he lowers the standards of his own living until he ceases to be the hero that the son loves to think him.
 But on the other hand the son often fails to remember the sacrifices that the father has made for him and the fact that the father's weariness and worn out nerves are often a handicap in permitting him to respond as he would wish to the "pep" in the son.

The influence of the week will undoubtedly do much to bring father and son into closer relationship.

We Needn't Worry!

We're doomed—this earth and we who live on it! But we needn't worry! The last word from a professor of astronomy at the University of Washington assures us that, while we're on the way to destruction, it's a few million years away.

According to this authority this "little old battle-scarred earth, a mere clay marble among the billiard balls of the great solar systems," is headed for the giant sun, Vega and at the merry clip of 540,000,000 a year. At this rate our beloved planet can saunter along for 180,000,000 years before it catches up with Vega, so there's no need of changing cars for Jupiter or Mars yet awhile.

Of course a smash-up with the giant sun would be a little hard on our descendants, but at the way things are going on in this war-torn old earth, who knows whether there'll be any descendants. Or if there are why couldn't the descendants of Edison develop a new invention that would enable the little old earth to whiz right by?

Any way we're not passing any sleepless nights about a fate that's 180,000,000 years away.

THE QUESTIONNAIRE

Good Lord! Bill, I'm full of despair,
 From filling out my questionnaire.
 What is it? Well! I don't know,
 Just page after page of "Yes or No"
 Sign and sign, and swear and swear
 That's something like a questionnaire

I answered yes, when it should be no.
 To Board Number one, I had to go.
 The Boss of the Board he never smiles

Asking questions up in the miles,
 As he sits in his office chair,
 Looking thru your questionnaire.

"Who filled it out?" He yelled at me,
 Whoever did couldn't write or see.
 You have answered yes on every line,
 You're in the asylum, been convicted of crime;

Out on bail, but confined in the pen;
 A Divinity teacher to all men.

Says I: "Boss, I don't read or write,
 I answered "Yes," so I could fight.
 My ten year old sister, Claire,
 She filled out my questionnaire,
 And she writ "Yes on every line,
 To get it to your board in time."
 The Boss says, "If you want to fight,
 This paper must be made out right."
 Then he asked all 'bout me and ma,

HOW JOE FOUND HIMSELF

Joe had called at Irma's home to take her to a dance and when he found she wanted to stay home and knit a muffler for Mel Houston instead, he was furious. He left abruptly, slamming the door after him. Finding himself out on the street he walked and walked and walked, at each step becoming more jealous of the soldier boy Irma had mentioned. For Joe didn't realize that Irma still thought him her beau. Joe always HAD been her beau ever since they had been kids, but when she saw Mel Houston home on leave from camp and saw that he had none of the comforts the other soldiers from the same town had, motherly instincts awoke in her and she resolved to get busy with her needles, for Mel was an orphan and had no one to do these things for him.

After Joe's rage had worn off a bit, he began wondering, "what's everybody so excited about these soldiers for, Irma would hardly speak to Mel—until after he joined the army."
 Joe never read the papers, except the sporting page and even then only the accounts of fights and box scores of the ball games. In this he was not unlike the average young man of today, who depends upon his information second-hand from the wise guy

 "on the corner."

Joe walked on and on, headed for no place in particular and presently found himself out in the suburbs of the town in which he lived. In passing a house he saw the occupants standing in the doorway bidding goodbye to an officer in uniform. In answer to a question Joe heard the officer answer: "We don't know exactly, but no more passes are to be issued after tonight and we may sail anytime now."

Little Joe sat down on a rock by the side of the road and lighted a cigarette. It was a beautiful night and the stars looked so near that you could reach out your hand and touch them. Sounds of a motor could be heard in the sky from an aeroplane hovering over an aviation field not far off, where they were practising "night flying." As Joe sat there thinking to himself, it suddenly dawned upon him

 "why ain't I in this? Why am I looking around like a zeb? What's it all about anyway?" Suddenly a searchlight shot through the sky and finally settled on the plane that Joe had been hearing. He could plainly see the big bird commence to spiral and dip and then finally skim down behind some trees where it was making its landing. Joe, jumping to his feet at the sight murmured, "Oh, boy! that must be great to be skipper of one of them babies."

On his way home he met an acquaintance, and casually remarked to him, "say, Pete, if you were goin' to join the army which branch would you pick?"

"Me?" answered Pete, "Oh, I would pick out one of those 'nonshootable' no metal can touch you' jobs, but I ain't in the draft age so I ain't goin' to pick any of 'em."

"I'm only nineteen myself," Joe said to him, but it's me for climbing aboard with Uncle Sam if the old boy will have me."

Nick Geikas, a young Greek, who is a member of Company H, 332 Infantry to this city Sunday and was quite enthusiastic over Washington, its good hotel service, stores and gener-

The young soldier said that the crowded conditions in Chillicothe made the boys appreciate the contrast-

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Somewhere in France, January 18, 1918

Dear Friends:— I have neglected to write more since I have been over here than I have ever done before. It seems that our time is so taken up that we have no time to write. We are on the go from morning until night.

Everyone seems to like France as far as I can see. Of course the weather is not of the best here at present. We had a big snow that lasted a week and went off with a rain that made the mud about shoe-top deep. It seems like the weather will not settle down to one thing; it either rains or snows every day. I suppose you are having some real winter back in Ohio.

We had turkey for both Thanksgiving and Christmas. The Christmas boxes are just coming in a few at a time. Some of the boys, though, got their boxes a day or two before Christmas.

You can tell all the folks at home that I am all right, and think I can whip any Boche in any way he wants to fight, which is saying a whole lot.

I suppose the boys at Chillicothe are learning the methods of modern warfare. But wait until they get over here and then they will realize just what war means. Most of the boys, I imagine, do not realize just what they are preparing for, just like myself, while I was in the states. But now I can see what war means, for the effects of it are everywhere over here. CORP. SHERMAN HIDEY, Co. M, 166th U. S. Inf., A. E. F. P. O. 703.

YOUR rugs make or mar your home—so be sure you get just exactly the right ones. Some like the extremely fine weaves of the ancient Persians, which have been beautifully reproduced in this country in Whittall Anglo-Persian Rugs—exquisite in color and design—rich in fabric and with the soft mirror-like sheen of an ancient silk rug. The right thing for your living room or reception room.

On account of the splendid quality of wool used—the employment of the most up-to-date methods—and strictly sanitary conditions of manufacture.

Every bit of wool is imported from the Orient, because the wool from Asiatic sheep is the longest, strongest, toughest and most resilient in the world, and, when blended by experts, gives the great wear-resisting quality which the name "Whittall's" woven into the back of every rug and yard of carpet, guarantees the purchaser of any of the products of the Whittall Mills.

Whittall Prices the Same From Coast to Coast

Whittall Rugs, like the Hamilton watch, are sold at standard prices wherever carried. It is distinctly to your advantage to choose from a large selection of patterns in the latest wanted colorings.

We have a most complete line of the usual wanted sizes (and some unusual) from a 22x36 inch hearth rug to the large 11.3x15 feet sizes.

Tonah.....MAY GIRACIA

Duke Chalmers, disgusted with civilization, goes West and becomes an Indian trader. He marries a Navajo girl, Natchah, and from this union comes a daughter Tonah. Chalmers becomes known as Man Above the Law to the Navajos, who fear him worse than death. Esther Brown arrives from the East and opens a missionary school. She pleads with Chalmers to stop selling bad whiskey to Indians and Mexicans, and also allow his daughter to attend school. He agrees to the latter but evades the former. Chalmers and Esther are drawn to each other and their interest ripens into love. During a Mexican celebration one night Esther is attacked. Chalmers, called to the rescue by Tonah, slays the teacher's assailant and it is then that both realize the strength of their love. Esther, however, insists that Chalmers return to his squaw and daughter. Natchah sees the rescue and is driven to action by her hate and makes an attempt on Esther's life, but is caught by Chalmers. Then Esther tells Chalmers that one of them must leave the place and the "Man Above The Law" asked a day to reach his decision. When Esther returns for her answer she finds that Chalmers, his squaw and daughter have gone.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by selling what their medicines contain. The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

It contains Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptones, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycophosphates, Casein.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

LUNCH ON GROUND.

WOMEN ORGANIZE AUXILIARY FOR WAR WORK IN FAYETTE

New Organization, Headed by Mrs. D. H. VanWinkle, Will Co-Operate With Fayette War Work Council.

Patriotic Women of the County Take Prompt Action at Notable Meeting Held Saturday.

Camp Sherman Community Work Comes First, and Mrs. D. S. Craig Heads Committee.

Over a hundred women assembled at the Federated Club rooms in the Y. M. C. A. building Saturday afternoon in response to the call for a woman's mass meeting to organize an Auxiliary to the Fayette County War Work Council of the Council of National Defense. It was a representative gathering of both town and country, and a remarkable meeting in the earnest expression of patriotism and willingness to meet whatever the stress of the hour demands.

During the hour preceding formal action of the meeting a reception was held to introduce two prominent members of the Ohio Woman's Auxiliary to Camp Sherman, Mrs. Cooper Procter of Cincinnati, vice president, and Mrs. Charles J. Parrish, of Hamilton.

chairman of section No. 8, which includes Fayette county.

This Camp Sherman community work will be the first work taken up by the local Woman's Council of National Defense, and in order to expedite action already too long deferred, arrangements had been made to make the initial move at Saturday's meeting.

The fact that Fayette county must take up the work and send in her apportionment was emphasized when Mrs. D. S. Craig, chairman of this branch, read a letter in which

"Brigadier General Perkins desires to ascertain if you have taken any action relative to raising the amount assigned as Fayette county's subscription to the Camp Sherman Community House. An early reply would be appreciated."

Respectfully, ALEX. LAUGHLIN, JR., Capt. Infantry, U. S. R., for Aid de camp to Maj. Gen. Glenn. For Brigadier General Perkins, Commanding Officer 83rd Division, Camp Sherman, Ohio.

Miss Amy Conn was chosen temporary chairman and made a splendid little opening talk, emphasizing the need of this woman's organization, equipped and ready to meet war's exigencies.

As both speakers were compelled to leave on the afternoon train the re-organization of the W. C. N. D. was postponed until after the presentation of the Camp Sherman Community work.

A Work of Vital Importance. Owing to the fact that the Camp Sherman Community work is just being started in this county many are not familiar with its purpose and necessity.

This is a state wide movement for which Ohio wants $300,000. It is apportioned to the counties, ten dollars for every man in the first quota. This makes Fayette county's quota $850.

Every person in the county is expected to contribute something to this fund.

Mrs. Cooper Procter, whose name is widely known in connection with the food card campaign, presented the financial side, while Mrs. Parrish, a most convincing speaker, gave insight into the nature of the work and impressed its call as a patriotic duty.

Major General Glenn brought about the organization of the Ohio Woman's Auxiliary for the purpose of constructing a Camp Annex at Camp Sherman so that soldiers may have a decent place to meet friends and relatives at camp. The federal authorities at Washington heartily endorsed General Glenn's plan and the American Red Cross donated $75,000 for a great Red Cross house, containing restaurant, lounging rooms, etc., as a nucleus for a camp annex.

The Y. M. C. A. donated $30,000 for two dormitory buildings and the D. A. R., $15,000 for the D. A. R. Lodge. At least five hundred sleeping rooms are now needed and the Women's Auxiliary has pledged itself to build these lodges. The Red Cross rest house will be the center assembling place and meals can be procured there.

Chillicothe frequently turns away in a single day several hundred persons who wish to see their boys at camp. The families of the boys should visit them—this is an essential point in the discipline which is to produce a victorious army. The morals of the soldiers will be directly affected by the construction of these lodges, because when men can see their families they are not tempted to indulge in questionable amusements.

A Cincinnati woman who has a son at Camp Sherman says: "The public does not understand the necessity for these lodges. As a mother of a drafted boy I feel it time that an explanation is offered. Perhaps you think we can go even if lodges are not erected. Try it! Go to Chillicothe, walk around all day, then stand and wait from 8 to 11:15 for a train which gets to Cincinnati at 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning. I know dozens of mothers who have gone through just that experience, and the sons of these mothers are to fight for you."

General Glenn says: "Our women must come to the realization that these boys and thousands more from Ohio are going over to Europe to fight and die if needs be, to keep the war over there; to protect this nation from invasion, to protect our homes and the lives and virtue of our women."

Isn't it only just that provisions can be made by which these boys can see their dear ones before they go?

The speakers made the subject of Camp Sherman Community and its imperativeness very plain before leaving and gave impetus to the launching of this work.

Officers Chosen for W. C. N. D.

The re-organization of the Woman's Council of National Defense was effected by the election of Mrs. Daniel H. VanWinkle president; Miss Amy Conn and Mrs. V. J. Dahl, vice presidents; Mrs. Val McCoy, treasurer; Mrs. Glenn Rodgers, secretary.

The new president was called upon and made brief response expressing the hope that every woman in the county will find her place in the war work vitally necessary, and urging their co-operation in the efforts to be put forth by the W. C. N. D.

Following the election action was taken towards the Camp Sherman Community fund by the election of a Camp Sherman Committee, including Mrs. D. S. Craig, chairman; Mesdames H. G. Coffman, Willard S. Willis, Alex. H. Ballard, H. C. Ireland. They will assume the active management for the campaign to secure Fayette's apportionment. Several members of this committee attended a C. S. C. district meeting in Cincinnati two weeks ago and efforts to organize the women of the county have been made with such success by Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Ireland that fifty district chairmen have already been secured, two from each precinct.

SHORT NOTE FROM LIEUTENANT PAUL

First Lieutenant Billie E. Paul, of Company K, 166th United States Infantry, writes a brief note to The Herald from "somewhere" stating that he likes the military life and is in the best of health.

Lieut. Paul, while he does not say whether there is an adequate supply of pie in the land of "somewhere" insists that he expects to at least "tie the can to the Big Roche."

"I'll not make a positive statement because I am still modest and backward and hate to brag," concludes the inimitable "Billie."

DOES ALL WORK IN THE STORE HERSELF NOW

Woman's Thriving Business Not Neglected Any More Because of Poor Health Since Tanlac Came.

Mrs. Myrtle Anderson, owner of a confectionery at 4325 Eastern avenue, Cincinnati, has a thriving business but she was hardly able to take care of it before she tried Tanlac.

"I scarcely knew what to do," Mrs. Anderson said. "My business was growing and I was scarcely able to give it the attention it required."

"My sleep didn't seem to rest me right and I got up in mornings feeling all tired out. I didn't have any energy."

"My stomach was out of order, too. My appetite was very poor and the food I eat didn't seem to digest right and did me little good."

"Finally I tried Tanlac and it certainly brought results. I sleep fine every night now and when I get up in mornings I seem completely rested all over. I can eat anything I want now, too, and food digests like it should."

"I can take care of all my business by myself now and I give Tanlac all the credit."

If you are not feeling right get Tanlac today.

You can get Tanlac at Blackmer & Tanquary's drug store; Frank Christopher's drug store, or C. S. Haver's drug store. Adv.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

PATTON IN PARIS ENJOYS VACATION AFTER HARD WORK

Four Months of Hard Work Spent in Y. M. C. A. Service Is Described by "Pat."

Glad to be Assigned to Home Troops—Gains Ten Pounds. Interesting Information.

While spending a few days in Paris enjoying a much needed rest, Walter Patton, former Y. M. C. A. Secretary in this city, penned the accompanying interesting letter, giving some insight into the life of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries in France.

Hotel Bayard, Paris, January 24, 1918.

Editor The Herald:—

You have probably heard long ere this that my transfer to the "Rainbow Division" has at last become effective. A man named Armstrong, a young minister from the Congregational Church of Worcester, Mass., was sent to take my place on January 26. He comes by the way, from the place where most of the boys in my contingent lived. The "Y" at present is endeavoring to do this wherever possible.

I rather hated to leave the bunch I'd been working with those four cold and rather dreary months. There are so many associations formed in that time that it is hard to break away. I stayed until Sunday night helping Armstrong to get next to things. We had a meeting then, and they sang at the close, "Good Bye, Good Luck, God Bless You" for me. I came into Headquarters with my baggage in a Ford truck belonging to our Construction Department and stayed there one night.

Then I was given a week's leave, and after storing my goods came to this "city of joy." I left there Monday afternoon and arrived here late last evening. I put up at the Du Pavillon which is the "Y" hotel for enlisted men. At this writing they have ruled both "Y" secretaries and officers out of the place. All who come here think it is the best place in Paris—officers and men alike. I managed to stay there on a plea of being completely exhausted by my four months hard labor in the bushes, but felt that the bluff wasn't working right today, so I pulled out and came to the Bayard, an excellent hotel. I've a much better room here with bath—which I didn't have there—and also I am paying just twice as much. It's only costing me twelve francs a day, though, which amounts to about $2. I don't get to spend money for anything on my job, I might as well leave a little of it here.

You really have to experience a room in a French hotel to understand what I mean when I say "excellent." With the hotel business as well as everything and anything else, in the way of making people comfortable and happy the French make it an art. Everything is pleasing to the eye and convenient for use. The contrast to conditions I've been living under is rather large. The buildings we've had are not as good as most of our barns. At first during the rainy season the roof leaked to beat the band. We used up all the tar paper we could find for the roof and when the cold weather came, we wistful we had saved it for the walls.

The buildings of course had to be made of green lumber, and though they were double walled, the cracks got wider and wider—both floors and walls. There really wasn't a nook or corner anywhere that Jack Frost wasn't there to find you, except under the blankets, and believe me, sleep never was so sweet. However, with plenty of warm clothes and good wholesome food, I don't think that I ever was in better health. Most of the soldiers fared pretty well as they were in billets, and most French houses are weather-tight at least. With a stove in them, the fellows were able to live pretty well.

I think I've never taken a vacation that I enjoyed so much. Not that my health demanded it—I really feel ashamed to confess that my "sacrifice" to my country has been to gain over ten pounds in weight. But I've put in longer hours and stuck on my job longer than anything I've ever had before. I used to think that the old "Y" at Washington demanded a great deal of care and attention. I could at least get a Sunday off there occasionally, but in my four months here I was only off one day, when I went to visit the boys from home.

I think, too, I've never had as real a vacation. It's between two jobs—the one behind I'm satisfied I did all I could and feel no responsibility for it; the one ahead I can only look forward to with pleasure, for it seems almost like going home once more. And then, too, to be able to spend this time in a place like Paris—well, it seems as though one is not making as much of a sacrifice for one's country after all.

I was thinking along this line, though, a few days ago, when I ran into three Canadians of the Medical Department. They told me, as we sat in front of one of the Boulevard cafes drinking chocolate, of stories of the "Fritzies" delight in dropping bombs on the "Y" dugouts after seeing a bunch of men congregate in front of the place. They told me of secretaries who had dug tunnels from their dugouts in case other means of escape were cut off, and that these came in handy. You'll gain from this that I haven't seen much of actual warfare yet. I haven't. I hardly think I will for a few months at least.

I have forgotten to mention that, "Y" men here didn't accept commissions. The opportunity was offered them and they thought that they could do better work as enlisted men than as officers. I feel that it was a wise decision. I know that a lot of advice that a "Y" man hands out would not be taken half so seriously if he were not working under the same conditions as the men.

I must close this rather lengthy epistle. Tell the people of the town and county that anything that they want done for Company M that is in my power, to let me know. Also tell them to send more magazines and books than ever. Send them to 12 Rue Aguessan, Paris.

Best wishes to all the people of old Fayette and I hope that we'll all be back with you sometime.

Very truly,
WALTER PATTON

Double the Supply of Poultry and Eggs in the United States and Increase the Amount of Available Food 1,500,000 Tons

One hundred hens and several hundred chickens on the average farm, rightly managed, can get nearly all their living in spring, summer and fall "from the land." In feeding themselves they will utilize nearly all the waste grain, and consume great quantities of weeds, weed seeds and destructive insects. One hundred hens and a few hundred chicks can turn a lot of farm waste into good food. Incidentally the poultry will leave on the land valuable fertilizer at the rate of two or three tons for every hundred birds. One hundred hens on every farm, and one hundred eggs from every hen, mean more poultry and eggs for consumption on the farm, more to sell, more to substitute for red meat, and more power to our arms and the allies.
